

Born to Learn

Born to Learn, a voluntary home visiting program, provides information, support, and encouragement to families with children: those with two involved parents, single parents (adult and teen), parenting grandparents, and foster parents. Self-referrals are accepted along with referrals from outside agencies or service organizations.

Born to Lean currently provides services to families with children from before birth to kindergarten entry and focuses on these components:

- Personal home visits provided by certified parent educators
- Group meetings providing activities and information to promote parent-child interaction
- Developmental and health screenings for young children
- Connections for families to appropriate community resources and service organizations based on their expressed needs and concerns
